THE STARS

The much-anticipated series is top-billed by 2016 Fantasporto International Best Actress and Kapuso Primetime Princess Barbie Forteza as Klay, Asia's Limitless Star Julie Anne San Jose as Maria Clara, and Kapuso Drama King Dennis Trillo as Ibarra.

THE STORY

Maria Clara at Ibarra follows the story of Klay, a Gen Z nursing student who aims to work and bring her family abroad. She is almost graduating soon, but not until she failed a minor subject—the Rizal Studies. Klay believes that this subject is irrelevant to her life and future career. Mr. Jose Torres, Klay's professor, gave her another chance to pass Rizal Studies and he lent her a book of Noli Me Tangere. Klay had not even read several pages of the novel when she got bored and fell asleep.

The mystery begins when Klay wakes up in the world of Noli Me Tangere. Much to her surprise, Klay finds Mr. Torres in the alternate timeline. Klay was told that she can only return to the present once she finishes the book and learns all the lessons from the novel of Dr. Jose Rizal. As she navigates the real world of Noli Me Tangere, Klay meets Maria Clara, Crisostomo Ibarra, the curates, the ilustrados, and the indios. This will open her eyes to the realities and sufferings of ancient Filipinos during the Spanish colonization.

What netizens say:

“They discussed education, labor, misogyny, and ethnocentrism in a span of three episodes. GMA is brave enough to tackle feminism in the recent episode of MCI. This only manifests that they are taking our free TV experience into a more realistic point of view.”

“Super deserve! Wala nang ibang magfi-fit sa character na ito kung hindi si Sir Dennis. Another ‘Best Actor’ award in the future! Ang husay gumanap from head to toe, dama talaga ang vibe ni Ibarra.”

“This is the series that I am waiting for. It talks about real human struggles. Barbie’s story is very realistic and her lines were so on point. Grabe ‘yung batuhan nila ng lines ng prof niya and ‘yung between sa kanila ng nanay niya. She deserves an award for this,” another netizen remarked.

“Grabe ang ganda, simula pa lang! Napakagaling mo, Julie! Nakaka-goosebumps! Buhay na buhay ang Noli Me Tangere novel. I love listening to those Spanish words. Nakakabighani ang iyong kagandahan, binibini at katangi-tangi ang iyong pagganap.”

“Nagkakaisa kaming lahat na kaya namin ginawa ito ay dahil gusto naming mahalín nating lahat ang Pilipinas.”

Suzette Doctolero
Creative Consultant & Head Writer
Taken from Kasaysayan at Kaysayan! interview

“May magaling na cinematography yung serye na ito. With Maria Clara At Ibarra, buhay na buhay ang camera work and movements kaya hindi boring panoorin ang bawat eksena. Kapanapanabik na subaybayan ang mga pagbabago na maaaring mangyari (kung meron man) sa istorya ng aklat ni Dr. Jose Rizal.”

“Not K-Drama related, but this Philippine historical drama titled Maria Clara at Ibarra caught my attention! These emotions that can be rarely seen in Philippine drama make me want to know more about Noli Me Tangere. GMA should provide more historical dramas that are as excellent as this,” a K-Drama enthusiast group posted on Facebook.

“Fonda Francesca de Lala Ary is a famous hotel during the Spanish period in the Philippines. Dr. Jose Rizal may have stayed in this hotel during his stay in Manila as a student and he mentioned this place in Noli Me Tangere.”

“Pinagbigyan ko po silang manood kasi may mga batang walang TV sa bahay. Although wala pa silang Noli Me Tangere, kahit papano nagkaka-idea na sila sa Noli. Ang dami nila tanong about sa past. Nakakatuwa lang po kasi seryoso silang nanonood talagang interested sila kaya vinideo ko po.” - Teacher Charlaine Alyssa Sese

“Dennis Trillo and Julie Anne San Jose are super effective as Ibarra and Maria Clara that I forgot they have this huge age gap in real life. Fidel as Klay’s future nobyo. They just don’t know it yet pero dadasalan namin ‘to.”

“Ang creepy ni Padre Salvi! The main villain of Noli Me Tangere who caused the chaos! Everyone wants to protect Maria Clara from Padre Salvi at all costs. But just like the ones who knew the future, could we ever stop it?”

JILLIAN WARD:

MAIN CHARACTER
ENERGY

Text by:
Aaron Brennt Eusebio
Photos by:
Prima Donnas
and Jillian Ward
Instagram

Jillian Ward became a household name at a very young age, thanks to a TV adaptation of Trudis Liit, a 1963 film headlined by the Star for All Season herself, Vilma Santos. As she takes on one good project after another, Jillian has learned that the only person in control of her destiny is herself.

“Yung mga ginagawa ko po kasi, out of love po sa trabaho ko, out of love po doon sa mga God-given talent ko, hindi lang po kung marami ba ’yung views or sisikat po ba ako doon sa ginagawa ko.”

For most of her life, Jillian Ward has been in the public eye, gracefully but carefully exploring the ins and outs of the entertainment industry, an industry she’s learned to love.

At 6 years old, Jillian portrayed Trudis Liit with aplomb, earning for herself the Best New Female TV Personality award at the 25th PMPC Star Awards for Television. Today she portrays the role of Dr. Analyn Santos, the country’s youngest neurosurgeon in the inspirational-medical drama series Abot Kamay Na Pangarap.

Even before being discovered by GMA Network and getting her big break, Jillian already knew she loved entertaining the public. She would usually stand in front of the mirror, use a hair comb as her microphone, and belt out Michael Jackson’s classic hit Man in the Mirror. Her grandparents told her years later that she used to point at the television as if she already knew what her destiny would be.

After Trudis Liit, Jillian went on to portray the talking doll in Jillian: Namamasko Po (2010), Lelay in Captain Barbell (2011), and Lolita Matias/Daldalita in Daldalita (2011). However, as Jillian grew older, her career as a child star didn’t continue as much as she had hoped it would.

“Yung mga nine years old po ako hanggang fourteen, awkward stage po ’yun, e. Nahirapan din po ’yung GMA na bigyan din po ako ng mga roles kasi hindi nila alam kung baby pa rin ako or dalaga na po talaga,” she admits.

For years, Jillian took on different characters as she figured out which characters were the right fit for her. Thankfully, the character of Donna Marie Claveria in GMA Afternoon Prime’s top-rated and well-loved series Prima Donnas (2019) opened the door for her to reinvent herself as a teen star.

Although the pandemic momentarily disrupted the successful run of Prima Donnas, it still received a letter of commendation from GMA Network, Inc. Chairman and CEO himself, Atty. Felipe L. Gozon, and, without question, was renewed for a second season.

“Dito po talaga si Prima Donnas, doon po talaga ako nag-transform from child star to teen star. Mas nag-mature na po kasi talaga kasi ‘yung awkward stage ko po, ‘yun po ‘yung parang dini-discover ko pa lang po kung ano po ako as a teen... parang mas may lalim na po ‘yung pag-arte ko at saka may lalim na po ‘yung character ko. So mas mature na po talaga ever since Prima Donnas.”

LOOKING BACK FOR A PERFECT FUTURE

Being active in show business for years has been hard, but Jillian has taken on every challenge with grace. She can now say that she’s discovered some “secrets” to lasting in the business of her own.

“Hindi ko po iniisip ‘yung fame, mas iniisip ko pa po na ‘pagbuti ko po ‘yung trabaho ko, na mas galingan ko pa po lagi,” the 17-year-old actress shares proudly. “Ako po kasi, competitive po ako sa sarili ko, e, so gusto ko po lagi po akong nag-i-improve, hindi ko po iniisip ‘yung kung sisikat ba ako sa gagawin kong ito or kung marami bang makakapansin nito.

Scan the QR code to read the full article: <https://www.gmanetwork.com/entertainment/kapusoprofiles/news/73/jillian-ward-main-character-energy/kapusoprofiles>

“Gusto ko pong gawin lahat kasi gusto ko pong tumanda talaga sa showbiz . Sabi ko nga po, ang goal ko po, tumanda po ako sa showbiz na one day, ako na po si Lola Goreng (Gloria Romero) ng ‘Daig Kayo ng Lola Ko.’”

All things considered, Jillian wants to portray many characters and star in as many shows as she possibly can—from drama to romcom to action. But one thing is for sure: she plans to stay long in the business and share her talents if possible.

“Sobrang dami ko pa po talagang gustong i-portray na characters, isa na po doon ‘yung meron pong mental disability para po makapag-spread ako ng awareness. Gusto ko rin mag-try mag-action. Siguro ‘yung mga drama rin po na mas malalim pa po ‘yung story ng pamilya or mas malalim pa ‘yung role ko.❤️

GMA Network and Nestlé Philippines conducted coastal cleanup at LPPCHEA

GMA Network and Nestlé Philippines teamed up for the nationwide coastal cleanup at the Las Piñas-Parañaque Critical Habitat and Ecotourism Area (LPPCHEA).

(L-R) Nestlé PH Chairman and CEO Kais Marzouki, Sparkle GMA Artist Center Assistant Vice President Joy Marcelo, and Nestlé PH Assistant Vice President and Sustainability Lead Maria Christine Ponce-Garcia

The activity was part of the Kapuso at Kasambahay ng Kalikasan partnership between the two companies to inform the public about the pressing environmental challenges, especially the plastic waste problem in the country. It also aimed to educate everyone about their responsibility in caring for and preserving the planet via reducing, reusing, and recycling plastics.

Sparkle GMA Artist Center Assistant Vice President Joy Marcelo expressed her gratitude to Nestlé for collaborating with GMA: “We’re glad that Nestlé partnered with us for this. Protecting the environment is a cherished value of the television network. For us at Sparkle, everything that our artists do always resonates. Like their fans and people who look up to them get inspired by what they do. Hopefully they set good examples such as this. And I’m happy because we have social and environment-conscious artists.

Nestlé PH Assistant Vice President and Sustainability Lead Maria Christine Ponce-Garcia expressed her hope that the coastal cleanup with the participation of Sparkle GMA Artist Center talents would help encourage audiences to participate in safeguarding the planet by tackling plastic waste in their daily lives.

"As the Kasambuhay ng Kalikasan, Nestlé's partnership with the Kapuso Network is important in enabling us promote awareness about environmental issues and rallying more Kapuso and Kasambuhay to take action. We have to work together and everybody needs to get involved," she said. Sparkle GMA Artist Center talents Rabiya Mateo, Rain Matienzo, Yasser Marta, and Vanessa Peña, together with the members of GMA's employee-volunteer group GMA G.I.V.E.S. (Guide. Interact.

Volunteer. Educate. Serve.), and Nestle employees participated in the closed loop clean up initiative at LPPCHEA, the first established critical habitat in the Philippines.

Meanwhile, What We Could Be's Yasser Marta shared how he is one with nature and is delighted to be part of this initiative, "Nature lover ako. Pumupunta ako sa bundok, nagmo-motor ako. Mahal ko talaga ang nature kaya sobra akong thankful to Nestle and GMA for inviting us. At least kahit nasa City, nakakatulong tayo sa coastline."

Miss Universe Philippines 2020 and TiktoClock Host Rabiya Mateo appreciated the opportunity given to her by the network to be part of the clean-up drive, "I am very happy to be part of this program as a Kapuso and as a Kasambuhay ng Kalikasan. It is also giving back to our home. Nakakataba ng puso to be part of GMA Network. Hindi lang siya for entertainment, for news and public affairs, but taking action in real problems of the planet. It's a beautiful message na may pag-asa. It is a call to action sa lahat that climate change is real but we can do something as responsible citizens to stop it. This coastal cleanup is also an action to take nothing but memories but leave nothing but footprints."

Sparkle host, artist, and influencer Rain Matienzo pledged to take good care of the environment, "My promise to nature is to always inspire people to always take care of it."

"Sa bahay gagawin ko 'yung mga simpleng bagay - magtipid ng electricity, ng tubig - kahit maliit na bagay malaki ang naitutulong," said Sparkada's Vanessa Peña on how she can responsibly take care of the planet in her own little way.💕

GMA Pinoy TV commemorates Fil-Am History Month with the Pinoy community

In the spirit of bringing Global Filipinos closer to home and as part of building on the #StrongerTogether campaign, GMA Pinoy TV visited various Fil-Am communities and offices in the United States to celebrate Filipino American History Month (FAHM) last October.

Introduced by the Filipino American National Historical Society in 1992 and officially recognized in 2009 by the U.S. Congress, FAHM commemorates the first arrival of Filipinos in the country in Morro Bay, California on Oct. 18, 1587.

With the coinciding FAHM and GMA Pinoy TV's 17th-anniversary celebrations, the GMA Pinoy TV team took every opportunity to visit different Fil-Am communities, embassies, and consulates during its US trip.❤️

“Individually, each Filipino is already an achiever, impressive in his/her own unique way, and when we pool these talents to complement each other, we can truly be a force to reckon with and that’s how we become Stronger Together.”

Ti Panagawid Ko

In celebration of Filipino American History Month and as part of its #StrongerTogether campaign, GMA Pinoy TV proudly presents a special documentary on the homecoming of an extraordinary Filipina. Thirty years since she moved to the United States, Filipina executive chef in Hollywood Chef Vallerie Castillo-Archer returns to her homeland.

Chef Vallerie Castillo-Archer, the first woman Executive Chef of Yamashiro LA returns to the Philippines after 30 years of being away and living her life in the US. GMA Pinoy TV follows her journey as she rediscovers her roots, reminisces about her childhood and gives back to her homeland - Batac, Ilocos Norte. She takes this trip close to her heart as she said she owes her stature now from her humble past. Her mother gave birth to her inside her grandfather's bakery --- she was born to be a baker and strived to be one of the best chefs in LA.

Described by colleagues as prolific and a multitasker that can handle multiple lines in the kitchen, Chef Val is a proud Ilocana paving the way for other Pinoy talents to contribute to the global Filipino food revolution. She made sure to hire Pinoys to join her in the kitchen as she believes in Filipino diligence and ingenuity. A few Pinoy recipes are already included in Yamashiro's menu and she plans to add more in the future.♥
